Aurora Central Catholic High School was named to the Catholic High School Honor Roll's best 50 secondary schools in America. The first-ever honor roll recognized the nation's top 50 high schools based on their commitment to academic excellence, Catholic identity and civic education. The state of Illinois, with seven schools selected, led the way. To see a complete list of the schools, visit www.chshonor.org.

Other honorees from Illinois: Carmel High School (Mundelein); Marian Catholic High School (Chicago Heights); Brother Rice High School (Chicago); St. Ignatius College Preparatory School (Chicago); and Marian Central Catholic High School (Woodstock).

The Catholic High School Honor Roll is an independent project of the Acton Institute for the Study of Religion and Liberty, an international research and educational organization based in Grand Rapids, Mich. The Honor Roll was produced in consultation with a national advisory board comprised of Catholic college presidents and Catholic scholars.
