HONOR ROLL

Sept. 9 —The Acton Institute of Grand Rapids Mich., has issued its second annual Catholic High School Honor Roll of the nation's 50 best secondary Catholic schools in America. In its evaluation, the institute, which does not rank the 50, gives equal weight to the academic, civic and Catholic components.

For Catholic identity, the institute takes account, among other things, of how often the schools make Mass and confession available to the students, and the availability of priests.

Honor Roll schools range from the 24-student Holy Rosary Academy in Anchorage, Alaska, to St. Thomas Aquinas High School in Fort Lauderdale, Fla., with more than 2,100 students. Schools from 21 states made the Honor Roll led by Florida with seven schools selected.
